

Job Opening: Student Ambassador for Absalon's Ambassador Corps

Are you a student at Absalon and excited to share your study experience? Join Absalon's Ambassador Corps and help future students learn about Absalon's programs!

As a Student Ambassador, you will represent your education from Absalon and share your experience with future students who are interested in studying at Absalon. You will talk about your program, whether it's Biotechnology, or any other education from Absalon, and help others make informed choices.

What You Will Do:

- Tell future students about your studies and life at Absalon Kalundborg.
- Represent Absalon's programs to new students and visitors.
- Share your personal story of how you chose your program and what your studies are like.
- Participate in 2-3 meetings per year with other ambassadors to practice and improve your skills.

What We Are Looking For:

We are looking for students who:

- Are currently studying Biotechnology, Machine technology or Medical laboratory sciences at Absalon.
- Are proud of their education and excited to share it with others.
- Can communicate clearly and enjoy talking to new people.
- Are interested in learning public speaking (experience is not required).
- See this role as a good opportunity to help others and build your network.
- Danish is not required, but it is a bonus if you understand some Danish. This role is also a great way to learn more about Danish culture and even practice your language skills if you want to.

What You Get:

- Hourly pay for the tasks you complete.
- Flexible work: you sign up for shifts that fit your schedule.
- A chance to gain valuable experience and meet students from other programs.
- Travel expenses covered, plus payment for your time spent traveling.
- A certificate after one year as an ambassador, which will be useful in future job applications.

How to Apply:

Please email your application to Martina Koch at mmko@pha.dk.

- Your CV (resume).
- A short introduction (no more than 1 page) explaining why you are a good fit for this role and why you would like to become an ambassador.

For any questions, feel free to contact:

Martina Koch at mmko@pha.dk or Lillie Rindal at liri@pha.dk

We will evaluate applications on an ongoing basis.
